(5) To prepare and report to the general assembly, or the governor when requested, any financial data or statistics which may be required, such as monthly or quarterly estimates of the state's income, and cost figures on the current operations of state institutions and other agencies.

SECTION 3.

(a) The administrative head of the office of state budget shall be the executive director who shall have such training or experience in government as may be deemed necessary to perform the duties assigned by the provisions of this act. The executive director shall be appointed by the joint legislative services committee, subject to approval by the speaker of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives, and shall serve at the pleasure of the committee. The executive director shall be chosen without reference to party affiliation but solely on the basis of fitness to perform the duties of the office. The salary of the executive director shall be fixed in an amount equivalent to the salary of the commissioner of economic and community development, or the commissioner of education, or the commissioner of finance and administration, whichever is highest.

(b) Subject to funding resources and limitations, personnel shall be employed on recommendation of the executive director with the approval of the speakers and shall be employed without reference to party affiliation but solely on the basis of fitness to perform job responsibilities. Compensation for personnel of the office of state budget shall be determined by the joint legislative services committee upon recommendation of the executive director.

(c) Suitable office space and facilities shall be provided in Nashville convenient to the general assembly and the various departments of state government.

SECTION 4.

(a) Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 4-3-104(a), is amended by deleting the words and punctuation “the department of the budget,”.

(b) Tennessee Code Annotated, Section 4-3-113, is amended by adding the following language as a new, appropriately designated subsection:
